

Power Standard	Method of Assessing this Standard
AP1. Students will recognize and define computational problems using algorithms and programming.	Through the study and application of Python programming, students will create a variety of interactive programs. The culminating activity is a construction of the arcade classic, Pong .
AP2: Students will create computational artifacts using algorithm and programming.	